"The South 40" by JAMES A. SMITH EXTENSION AGENT

Finally getting a few dry days to complete the harvest, at least on high land, and begin plowing. When have we ever had so much corn still in the field and barley or wheat not planted. I note that a number of growers are beginning to make substitutions in plans because of the delays in fall planting.

Don't forget that there's a 5 bushel per gain in plowing down corn fertilizer now rather than putting it all down at planting time.

George Hawkins, Extension Agronomist, pointed out to the dairymen last Monday night that one of the causes of 'herbicide failure' was low pH in the top 3 inches of soil. High rates of acid forming fertilizer which lower the soil pH kills the herbicide activity. This is particularly true of the triazine group, which most corn producers use.

We got about 45 head of spring bulls in Red House Test Center last Wednesday. There are some very outstanding bulls in this group, however, they will not be sold at the center.

While we were taking the bulls James Bennett mentioned that the cow that produced the $12,000 bull that was sold to a buyer in Brazil last January had another bull calf this week.

In 1975 Appomattox cattlemen marketed 747 calves and yearlings through one of the organized sales. This year the number was 782. If these calves brought only an additional $3.50 per CWT; that's an added $13,000 to farm income.

There are other reasons for marketing cooperatively other than price advantage if that isn't enough: 1. Cattle are graded and the breeder gets an opportunity to measure the breeding and selection program he is using; 2. Provides an opportunity to evaluate the kind of bull he used; 3. Gives some idea of the growthiness in the cattle; 4. Provides an opportunity to compare management ability with peers. If you haven't used this marketing technique, why not try it next year.

Those that got their small grain and pastures seeded in late September and October may want to be on the alert for possible nitrate deficiency. The 10 + inches of rain probably leached out much of the nitrogen.

Don't forget as of October 25, 1976, all PTO shafts must be shielded before employees can legally use them. Better check and be sure shields are in place.

This also goes for warning labels. They must be placed on farm machinery warning of rotating parts.

Pipe frame greenhouses may be a low cost method that is fairly easy to construct-we expect to have copies of Plan N-6217 shortly if you are interested in building one.

If you've purchased a used car and want to determine if it has been recalled for a defect; this can be done by calling this toll free number 800-242-9393.

To Be Presented At Red Oak Church

The Billy Graham film, "Corrie", will be shown at Red Oak Baptist Church in Oakville on Sunday night, November 21st at 7:30 pm.

"Corrie: Behind the Scenes with The Hiding Place" is a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations and is based on the experiences of Corrie Ten Boom, who, with her father, sister and brother, provided refuge for countless Jewish families. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place during Gestapo raids.

The Ten Boom's activities were discovered and they were sent to prison and concentration camps.

The movie offers a great lesson in the perservance of a personal faith in a very dark and trying period in world history.

The pastor, Rev. G. E. Hughes, and the congregation extend a cordial welcome to the public to attend this movie.

Cub Scout Pack Meeting Set For Nov. 18

The monthly pack meeting of Cub Scout Pack 546 will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 18th, at the elementary School Cafeteria. This month's meeting will feature an auction of cakes baked by the boys and their fathers. Ribbons will be awarded for the cakes that best depict the theme "Rural America" - the scout theme for November.

All cub scouts, parents and friends should attend. Scouting is for the whole family.

May each of us be thankful and praise God for all our many blessing. He has bestowed upon us this Thanksgiving Day and all through the years and may we be found worthy of every blessing.
